

RCU and OCC bring cannabis education to the Chamber Network

CannEd is cannabis e-learning for employers and employees in all industries.

Prioritize safety and responsibility with CannEd.

In a legalized market, every employer has a vested interest in educating their employees about cannabis and updating their workplace substance management policy.

With this partnership, chamber members can get access to a turnkey e-learning course that educates their employees, as well as a free substance management policy template.

These tools will empower employers and help them continue to prioritize safety and responsibility for their employees and the communities they operate in.

Step 2

The RCU team will set up your organization on their learning platform, or, they will setup the course on your existing Learning Management System.

Step 3

Your HR team can easily batch upload existing employees and set up a process to provide access for new hires.

Step 4

Employees will have 30 days to complete the course. Weekly reporting will keep HR up to date with the progress. Automatic reminders will be sent to employees who have not completed the course.

Reporting

After completion, RCU will provide a report outlining the overall performance of employees and areas that can benefit from further education.

What is the education focused on?

Cannabis education for employers and employees which will share facts, laws, policies, and safety tips for cannabis products.

Why is this important?

- 17% of Canadians consume cannabis (source)
- Approximately 13% of Canadian workers who are current cannabis users consume cannabis before or during work (source)

How does education help?

- Educating employees and people managers at work ensures their safety and reduces employer liabilities
- An e-learning course allows employees to take the course based on their schedule and provides the employer with validation that they've reviewed and understood the information, as well as the employer's specific policy

RCU also provides a free Workplace Substance Management Policy template to help set up the right policy for your employees.
